DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 12-13-01 fails to comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609 because the patents have not been listed on a proper PTO-1449 form. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered as to the merits. Applicant is advised that the date of any re-submission of any item of information contained in this information disclosure statement or the submission of any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the statement, including all certification requirements for statements under 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609 ¶ C(1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 22-27 and 44-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 22, line 1, "the physical order" has no antecedent basis; limitation k, the language "receiving at least one an RF signal" is incomplete sentence structure; a period appears in limitation k after "railcar" rendering the claim incomplete; limitation k.(4), the phrase "the determined relative order" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 44, limitation d., the phrase "the electrical signals" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 51, limitation c., the phrase "the transmitting rail car is indefinite and has no antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 22, 23, 26-35, and 37-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Stevens et al.

Stevens shows the method and apparatus of determining the physical order of plural railcars in a train consist where the railcars are connected clearly provides for providing a parameter which varies along the length of the train and transmitting a synchronization signal along the length of train to the local nodes at each car.

Stevens provides for the transmission of a second signal which propagates through the train at a slower rate than the sync signal and then measuring the difference in time between the receipt of the sync and serial signal at each node.

Stevens provides for the sync and serial signal may be transmitted in any order with one beginning the time period and the other ending the time period. This information is used for serialization.

Stevens provides for the sync and serial signal for transmission through two different mediums, for example, the sync signal is electric and the second signal is a fluid signal transmitted through a brake pipe, col. 2, lines 1-15.

See col. 4 for RF transmission, pneumatic pressure pulse, and different times of arrival.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 24, 25, and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stevens et al.

Stevens suggest maintaining a log in col. 1, lines 44-47.

With respect to claim 36, error determination is analogous to Stevens train controller sorting technique. The counter for counting the number of node measurement parameters in combination with comparison is analogous the error recognition, see col. 2, lines 38-45 and col. 4, lines 64 et seq.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Miller and Kull show related train ordering systems.
